Books:

By Lee Strobel

www.leestrobel.com — Lee Strobel website. Journalist/atheist turned Christian, Lee Strobel has written dozens of books affirming the truthfulness of the Christian faith. Here are the most recent books:

Is God Real? — Written for the skeptic, this book explores evidence for the God of the Bible. Easily accessible information is aimed at skeptical thinkers.

The Case for Heaven — An excellent discussion of heaven and hell exploring the scriptures and the extra-Biblical evidence for life after death.

The Case for Miracles — Lee covers evidence for the “Supernatural”. Also deals with the difficult issue of why God doesn’t work miracles all the time.

Today’s Moment of Truth — Devotional book with Mark Mittleberg

Seeing the Supernatural — Newest book

The Case for . . .

Hope

Grace

Christ

Faith

A Creator

Books by J. Warner Wallace

www.coldcasechristianity.com

Website of J. Warner Wallace. Jim Wallace is a cold case detective who developed a forensic method for analyzing eye witness accounts and interrogations to determine if the person is telling the truth. He was challenged to apply his technique to the Gospels and by doing so, he became a Christian. His website is filled with resources and videos. His books:

Cold Case Christianity – Establishing the truthfulness of the Gospel accounts.

God's Crime Scene – Shows overwhelming evidence for a Creator, the God of the Bible.

Forensic Faith – How to share your faith in a hostile culture

Person of Interest – An in-depth analysis of how Jesus Christ created the virtues of our modern culture.

Truth in True Crime – Case by case exploration of some of his cold cases and the attitudes and decision that led to destruction. Jim Wallace contrasts these cases with the positive attributes of the Christian lifestyle.

Other books:

“Don't Follow Your Heart: Boldly Breaking the Ten Commandments of Self-Worship” -- Thaddeus J. Williams explores the modern cultural trends and contrasts them with the proper attitudes and lifestyles of the scriptures.

The Air We Breathe: How We All Came to Believe in Freedom, Kindness, Progress, and Equality – Glen Scrivener

Written for the skeptic and believer, this book discusses the modern “virtues” we accept in our culture and how they could only come out of the teachings and the person of Jesus Christ.

Revering God by Thaddeus J. Williams – Rediscover the “awe” of God

The Benefit of Doubt by Craig Groeschel

C. S. Lewis has many books that would be characterized as apologetic.

The C. S. Lewis Collection: Signature Classics and Other Major Works contains most of his apologetic writings.

Return of the God Hypothesis: Breakthroughs in Physics, Cosmology, and Biology Seeking Evidence for the Existence of God by Stephen Meyer – Three scientific discoveries that reveal the mind behind the universe.

Signature in the Cell: DNA and the Evidence for Intelligent Design by Stephen C. Meyer

Darwin's Doubt: The Explosive Origin of Animal Life and the Case for Intelligent Design by Stephen C. Meyer

The Devil's Delusion: Atheism and its Scientific Pretensions by David Berlinski

I Don't Have Enough Faith to Be an Atheist — Norman L. Geisler and Frank Turek

The Privileged Planet: How Our Place in the Cosmos Is Designed for Discovery by Guillermo Gonzalez and Jay W. Richards

Stealing from God: Why Atheists Need God to Make Their Case by Frank Turek

Reasons to Believe books:

Clear Thinking by Ken Samples and Mark Perez — Learning to think clearly in a complex world. An appeal to strengthen the Christian “mind”.
Christianity Cross-Examined by Ken Samples — Excellent examination of the most common objections to the Christian faith. Christianity is “rational, relevant, and good”.

Humans 2.0 — Fazale Rana and Ken Samples explore the “transhumanism” movement that claims we can one day “upload” our consciousness to a machine. What does it mean to be human?

Fit For a Purpose — by Fazale Rana covers the existence of the “anthropic” principle found in the information rich biological systems.

Lights in the Sky and Little Green Men — Hugh Ross, Kenneth Samples, and Mark Clark covers the possible existence of life from other worlds and the truth behind UFOs.

The Creator and the Cosmos by Hugh Ross — Evidence for the existence of the God of the Bible from scientific discoveries about the nature of our universe. 4th Edition. Is readily accessible but has a lot of science.

Set Apart: How Genesis Stands Apart by J. R. Miller In Set Apart: How Genesis Stands Alone, RTB fellow and visiting scholar, J.R. Miller, skillfully breaks down lofty theological truths and terms, presenting the reader with a valuable foundation. He then builds on that foundation, revealing the uniqueness of Genesis as theo-history. He further demonstrates how Hebrew cosmology offers a dependable foundation for knowing something true about our origins, shaping ethical priorities, directing moral decision making, and guiding scientific inquiry.

Rescuing Inerrancy by Hugh Ross — This book combats the modern tendency to reduce the Bible to mere allegory and NOT a historical account of the workings of God.

Weathering Climate Change by Hugh Ross — In Weathering Climate Change, astronomer Hugh Ross steps outside of the rancor and noise, offering a comprehensive look not only at Earth's current climate but also at the planet's captivating climate history. His measured perspective and realistic response are grounded in a wealth of evidence from multiple scientific disciplines.

A Matter of Days by Hugh Ross — in depth analysis of the days of creation. Were they six 24 hour periods or something different?

Many more books can be found at their website along with videos.
